Some Lab Results Received on PBL Student

Watseka, IL – Public Health Officials confirmed that at 4:15 p.m. today, Thursday, December 03, 2009 some preliminary lab results were received in connection with the death of the eleven year old student from Loda, IL.

The lab results are inconclusive at this time. Testing is still underway. At this time no definitive results have materialized. Additional lab results are expected in the near future and will help provide a conclusive diagnosis. The Ford-Iroquois Public Health Department is still investigating this case and is continuing their work with the school district. Standard safety measures are in place and parents are encouraged to send their children to school.

Once again, the Ford-Iroquois Public Health Department offers condolences to the family, her friends and the PBL school district in this difficult time.
